

NURSING IN THE COMMUNITY:

NURSE-LED CLINICS & THE POLITICS OF COMMUNITY HEALTH IN THE 1960S & 1970S

The Nursing Archives Associates Speaker Series welcomes

DOMINIQUE A. TOBBELL, PhD

*Centennial Distinguished Professor and Director
Eleanor Crowder Bjoring Center for Nursing Historical Inquiry University of Virginia School of Nursing*

Dr. Tobbell is a historian of nursing and health care whose research examines the complex political, economic, and social relationships that developed among academic institutions, governments, and the health care industry in the decades after World War II and assesses the implications of those relationships for the current health care system. She is the author of three books, including, most recently, Dr. Nurse: Science, Politics, and the Transformation of American Nursing (University of Chicago Press, 2022). She has been the recipient of several awards, fellowships, and grants including from the American Philosophical Society and the American Association for the History of Nursing. Dr. Tobbell earned an undergraduate degree in biochemistry from the University of Manchester, and both a Master of Art and a PhD in the history and sociology of science from the University of Pennsylvania.

Hosted by the Nursing Archives Associates and Boston University Libraries in partnership with the BU School of Public Health

Tuesday, October 7, 2025

Reception 5:30 pm - 6:30 pm

Talk starts at 6:30 pm

Mugar Memorial Library
771 Commonwealth Avenue
Riverview Room, Floor 1

Refreshments served throughout

Conveniently located on the GREEN LINE, BOSTON UNIVERSITY CENTRAL stop of the B Train

Visit bu.libcal.com/calendar/events/NAASpeakerSeries or scan QR code to register for in-person or virtual attendance.

